

Time to celebrate... Hannah Barnell, accommodation general manager for Haka Hotels; Naomi Render, Haka Lodge manager

Welcome to the Haka Hotel K'Road Apartments say Briar Lowry and Joelle Gagnon, both Haka Tourism Group

Haka Hotel sees light of Day Street

Haka Hotel K'Road Apartments officially opened in 2 Day Street, Auckland (just off Karangahape Rd) last week, the property already reporting success in the corporate market as well as with customers from its own Haka Black Tours.

Chris Bain, sales manager with Haka Tourism Group, says the hotel is also registering early interest from New Zealanders and overseas visitors attending events, as well as having a profile with travel management companies that is starting to bring early results.

While the hotel is essentially self contained apartment style, Bain points out that breakfast boxes can be supplied and grocery deliveries arranged on behalf of guests. Special rates for parking and at the local gymnasium are also available.

The opening was celebrated with a Powhiri, site inspections and a function that spanned three rooms in the hotel.

Ryan Sanders, founder of the Haka Tourism Group, says 2017 was a big year for the company that saw it bringing on a number of new staff. The next big development is the imminent opening of the second Haka Hotel in Newmarket, Auckland.

Dan Wilde and Tony Shen, both Booking.com

Yvette Holden, MitoQ; Amy Wickliffe, NZME; Chris Bain, Haka Tourism Group; Kagwa Kironde, Dream Config